

Ultrasonic Sensor

- The left eye of your robot
- It "sees" objects and measure distance
- it uses sonar just like bats do: it measures distance by calculating the time it takes for a sound wave to hit an object and return - just like an echo

Light Sensor

- The right eye of your robot
- It tells colors
- it measures light intensity of colored surfaces

